The school's current safety systems are outdated and not interconnected through-out all the buildings. In school year 2008-09, the district suffered a fire at our administration building, which housed both fire and notification systems. The fire caused the administration building to be useless and the administration offices were moved back to the main building. Since that time our fire alarm system has been piece-mealed together, we currently have three different control panels through-out the buildings and they are not centrally coordinated, on the average we are replacing circuit boards in the panels at least twice a year. Administrators have to physically walk over to two of the panels to reset the system. Our campus does not have a campus wide student/staff notification (intercom) system. Notification is done over the phone and all areas of our campus are not covered, there are no systems to the exterior of our buildings, cafeteria, gymnasiums and agriculture lab. Administrators have to walk to those areas to notify the student/staff about potential dangers.
